

WELCOME

Not just a place for good food and music, Nashville was named after Continental Army Brigadier General Francis Nash, patriot of the American Revolutionary War. Before succumbing to wounds incurred from the Battle of Germantown, Nash's final words are said to have been "From the first dawn of the Revolution I have been ever on the side of liberty and my country". There is no better place for us to hold the 37th annual NCOM Convention than right here in Nashville. The fight for biker rights has always been an uphill battle, but history will forever remember that we fought on the right side of the battle for our freedom of the road.

Remember why you are here today – to learn, teach and share with one another to better facilitate the affairs of your organization back home. To coordinate with like-minded individuals and groups, forging relationships and fostering communications to present a united front against our common enemies and in support of common ground. What draws record numbers of concerned riders from across America to the NCOM Convention year after year is the opportunity to work together in unity and cooperation in pursuit of shared interests for the betterment of biking. Now, with over 2,000 NCOM groups nationwide, representing well over a quarter of a million politically active motorcyclists, NCOM has become the premier national bikers' organization and has successfully reached out to other segments of the motorcycle community in an effort to unite for our rights, both legal and legislatively. NCOM has risen to the occasion to become a unifying voice amongst North America's motorcycle rights activists, touring groups, motorcycle clubs, social associations, trikers, women motorcyclists, religious riding groups, and other diverse segments that make up the overall motorcycling community.

Some of today's finest Freedom Fighters from coast to coast will present information about the legislative process, lobby techniques, organizational efforts, leadership principles, and political insights. Please review this agenda carefully and select the meetings and seminars that will best serve you and the needs of the organization you are representing. So enjoy and learn from this year's 37th annual NCOM Convention, brought to you BY BIKERS FOR BIKERS, and NCOM appreciates your participation and involvement.

DELEGATES / OBSERVERS

ALL NCOM member organizations are invited to attend. Due to the amount of information that will be available to you through the meetings, workshops and seminars, each NCOM member organization should have (2) voting delegates and two (2) observers at the Convention.

Motorcycle groups that are not presently members of NCOM are welcome to attend and send observers. For additional information, please contact the National Coalition of Motorcyclists at 800-525-5355.

NCOM GOALS

On January 27, 1986, an idea whose time was long overdue became reality. This coalition of all motorcycle groups and organizations has been created so that we may speak in a united voice.

The National Coalition of Motorcyclists is not another new association but rather a bringing together of existing groups and organizations for the purpose of a mutual exchange of information, legislative strategy and the combined strength to fight all that is adverse to the freedom of the road. NCOM exists to assist motorcyclists through its FREE service. These include legislative assistance, nationwide information networking to share pertinent information on motorcycling issues and programs, loan programs, public awareness programs, assistance in helping biker rights groups become organized on the state/provincial level, a Legislative Task Force and motorcycling safety education.

The Coalition is managed by bikers for bikers. Through its Board of Directors, made up of motorcycle group leaders and management staff, we have the talent and expertise to serve the motorcycle community when called upon.

NOW assisting over 2,000 member organizations, NCOM is actively involved in national and state/provincial level motorcycling activities such as unfair legislation, discrimination, harassment, public awareness, rider education, cooperative effort between dealers and bikers, assisting new rider groups, legislative survey and developing the most comprehensive legislative library ever established.
